

STUDY DAYS PROGRAMME 2018

Palliative and End of Life Care and Bereavement Support

Caring for people approaching the end of life can be challenging – why not consider enhancing your knowledge, skills and confidence by attending one of our study days? They are open to any professional interested in learning about Palliative and End of Life Care and Bereavement. If there is not a study day to meet your organisation's needs then why not consider our bespoke Palliative and End of Life Care training, which is tailored to suit your individual needs. We also provide team building days and mandatory training.

“Very informative will change my approach to my role as a carer.”

“Today's class has been an eye opener for residential home dealing with end of life care”

“Trainers here are fantastic, very informative, supportive and great listeners.”

Absolutely amazing course, learned so much from so many people working in the field of palliative/end of life care.”

“Really good mix of laughter and seriousness especially as a difficult subject. Especially like role plays and videos – visual better than words for me.”
